

The Tuscarawas Valley Farmers Market encourages questions, comments, and posts made on our social media platforms. To keep content focused on our Market and its products and activities, we ask that all communications are made in a respectful manner and that posters agree to the following conditions:

- Unsubstantiated claims about a vendor or product will not be tolerated. If you have a concern, please bring it directly to the Market Management Team.
- Personal attacks and vulgar, abusive, offensive, threatening, or harassing language will not be tolerated.
- Comments that contain any discriminatory or defamatory content based on race, religion, creed, color, age, gender, marital status, status with regard to public assistance, national origin, physical or mental disability, or sexual orientation will not be tolerated.
- Comments with sexual content or links to sexual content will not be tolerated.
- Uploading or attaching files that contain content which you are not authorized to distribute, or files that contain viruses, malware, spyware, or other software that may damage another user's computer or device will not be tolerated.
- Posting promotional or commercial content that is not Market related will not be tolerated.
- Posting inflammatory or inappropriate comments for the purpose of upsetting other users and provoking a response (AKA trolling) will not be tolerated.
- Excessive repetitive posting will not be tolerated.
- Posting for the purpose of promoting or opposing a politician, political issue or religious affiliation will not be tolerated.
- All participants post or comment at their own risk and take personal responsibility for content shared.

Opinions expressed through public comments or postings from other organizations on our social media outlets do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Tuscarawas Valley Farmers Market. Any information posted is considered public information and may be subject to monitoring by the Market Management Team; this content may be removed, marked as spam, or the user may be banned at our discretion. By posting content, you grant the TVFM permission to reproduce, transmit, display, or otherwise showcase your communications royalty-free.
